

Apple Creek HISTORICAL SOCIETY

ESTABLISHED 2001

Listed below are some of the upcoming activities at the Apple Creek Historical Society.

All programs are open to the public and free of charge. Children must be accompanied by an adult. Programs will be held outside when possible.

Apple Creek Library Summer Reading Club “Tracks, Trails & Tails”

6/01/21 – 7/31/21 Location: Apple Creek Historical Society

Preschoolers through adults are encouraged to sign up for the Summer Reading Club.

Let's Go Outside

6/11/2021 10:00 - 11:00 am Location: Apple Creek Historical Society

Explore the outdoors with fun activities for all ages with Carrie Elvey, senior naturalist from the Wilderness Center. Go on scavenger hunt, look for hidden shapes, create your very own micro-trail and lots more. This program is free and appropriate for all ages. All children must be accompanied by an adult. Visit wildernesscenter.org or call 330-359-5235 to reserve a spot.

Investigating Insects

7/17/21 10:00 - 11:00 am Location: Apple Creek Historical Society

Join Carrie Elvey, senior naturalist from the Wilderness Center, for a fun look at the world of insects. We'll hunt for bugs, conduct simple experiments with ants, and talk about how you can help insects in your own backyard. This program is free and appropriate for all ages. All children must be accompanied by an adult. Visit wildernesscenter.org or call 330-359-5235 to reserve a spot. Participation is limited.

Dr. Dave's Whiz Bang Science Show Tells Tales of Tales

8/02/21 6:30 - 7:30 pm Location: Apple Creek Library

A fun, educational program about animals and especially the workings and uses of animals tails. Learn how animals communicate with their tails, how they use their tails to land on their feet from a fall, use their tail as another hand, plus many more uses. Each example will include interesting demonstrations to learn about the science behind tails. Dr. Dave is a scientist at OARDC and has performed at the Wayne County Fair, OSU Bug World and many other events. See his new show! Sponsored by the Apple Creek Library.

Investigating Insects (Repeat of July 17 program)

8/03/21 10:00 - 11:00 am Location: Apple Creek Historical Society

Join Carrie Elvey, senior naturalist from the Wilderness Center, for a fun look at the world of insects. We'll hunt for bugs, conduct simple experiments with ants, and talk about how you can help insects in your own backyard. This program is free and appropriate for all ages. All children must be accompanied by an adult. Visit wildernesscenter.org or call 330-359-5235 to reserve a spot. Participation is limited.
