Rhett J. Martin has spent most of his life engaged in some form of art. Beginning as a sketch artist, he swiftly moved through fine arts and design into the world of special effects artistry. It wasn't long before Rhett's room was packed with everything he could find about film making and stagecraft. Stemming from his early days with The Players Guild of Canton, Rhett enjoyed working onstage, and then went on to perform at Cedar Point, Sea World of Ohio, and points beyond. But during his time at Kent State, he was constantly drawn to the art and making aspects of stagecraft. He found success at Louisville High School, as well as West Holmes High School as a Theatrical Technical Director. You've most likely experienced Rhett's handy work when the Haunted Orchard called Wooster home, as Rhett was the lead set designer and makeup artist. Rhett also spent time at Ohio Taxidermy Supply as their lead mold maker and caster, and here in Wooster at INKtastic as a shirt designer. Rhett now works from home as the Product and Content Manager for a company that builds and sells licensed film props and replicas from films. His client list has included Sony Pictures, Industrial Light and Magic, Tested with Adam Savage, The Pro Football Hall of Fame, Horrorhound, and more!

Songwriting for Kids

Kathy Odenkirk

Ages 9-12

Has your child ever wondered how to write songs but didn't know where to begin? Songwriting for Kids is a great place to start! We will begin by writing words to familiar melodies and then move to creating our own melodies and rhythms. We will also explore different ways to write music so you do not need to already know how to read music to join us.
